

I am a frequent listener to XM Radio. I pay for the service and can't understand why XM Radio can't continue to provide me with traffic and weather information.

Yes, this competes with traditional broadcasters, but what interest is there in giving them a monopoly on providing such services?

Please do not give in to the NAB and their interests - preserve free choice.

Regards - Andy Borchers